

Kevin Shea, a Berklee College of Music alumnus and The New School graduate, is renowned for his dynamic drumming techniques over a 35-year career. He gained international recognition in the mid-1990s with Storm&Stress and has since recorded over 400 albums and performed in more than 50 countries. Recently, Shea has collaborated with artists like Swirlies, God Is My Co-Pilot, Mostly Other People Do The Killing, and Lydia Lunch. His 21st solo album, "Caveman Archetype," showcases his evolving artistic philosophy.